- Graduate studies entrance scholarship

NEEDS-BASED SCHOLARSHIPS

- Long-term Educational Assistance Program (LEAP)
- Nicanor Reyes Science Scholarship Program (NRSSP)
- Grants for special groups
- Presidential Decree (PD) No. 577

FEU TUITION DISCOUNT (FTD)

For students with less than P360,000.00 combined annual family income with at least C (2.50) GPA and no failed or dropped courses in the preceding semester. Grantee must enroll a minimum load of 15 units and provide proof of income.

GRADUATE STUDIES TUITION DISCOUNT

Open for FEU alumni, full-time professionals, government employees, school guidance counselors, nurses, and teachers. Tuition discounts range from 25 percent (alumni) and 50 percent to 75 percent (professionals).

SERVICE SCHOLARSHIP GRANTS

For qualified athletes, members of the cheerleading squad and members of the President's Committee on Culture (PCC) groups. Benefits for athletes and cheerleading squad members include full tuition and assessed miscellaneous fees discount, while qualified members of the PCC are granted either full or partial tuition discount.

EXTERNALLY FUNDED GRANTS

Apart from university-funded scholarships, our industry partners also offer grants for qualified students. However, FEU implements a one-student, one-scholarship policy. If a student qualifies for both university-funded and externally funded grants, the student must choose which grant to avail through a waiver documenting their decision. Additionally, grants are revoked upon cancellation of enrollment since the grant's purpose has not been met.

For more information about externally funded grants and other financial assistance programs, you may contact the Admissions and Financial Assistance office.

WHY CHOOSE FEU?

- Assurance of quality education in the arts and sciences with Level IV PACUCOA accreditation for five programs, along with whom three Level II-accredited and two Level I-accredited programs.
- Exposure in local and international practices through internships, seminar and conference opportunities with our partner academic institutions and industrial linkages.
- Widen your network and involvement with professional organizations in your chosen field in the arts and sciences.
- Long history of excellence since the Institute's establishment in 1934, as reflected in our outstanding graduates and alumni who have made their mark in their respective careers locally and abroad.
