

The Bachelor of Science in Internal Auditing (BSIA) curriculum is intended to provide general accounting and internal auditing education for those who wish to pursue a career in the field of providing risk-based, objective and reliable assurance, advice and insight.

Aside from professional accounting education and specialization courses, the curriculum also includes general education (GE) courses which develop basic skills and competencies such as analytic thinking and persuasive communication.

The BSIA curriculum consists of 4,272 hours of coursework, including the 600-hour internship in partner auditing, accounting or accredited business firms. The program also requires students to conduct research work and feasibility studies related with internal auditing. The BSIA program also complies with competency frameworks issued by various accounting and internal auditing organizations, which qualifies graduates to take international certification assessments.
